His work as a musician has included positions with Riverdance, David Soul Orchestra, In Tua Fiocuisce, and Eurovision. Norris also currently leads his own act, Perotnik, and was a member of The Kevin McGann Trio. Career Norris grew up in Claremorris, County Mayo, Ireland. His parents were members of the Irish

Musical Hall Company. Following a disagreement with his father at 14 years old, he moved to London where he initially studied acting at Guildford School of Acting. He has written articles and made contributions in various Irish newspapers and magazines, including The Irish Press, The Irish Times and Irish Music. He also joined the Irish Music Hall Company for a time, appearing in his first Riverdance performance in Donnybrook, Dublin in April 1988. Norris met Tony in the spring of 1988 when the two were performing together on the Point Theatre's Waterford (now the Tivoli Theatre) in Waterford, Ireland. Norris has appeared on numerous TV shows worldwide, including The Bruce Forsyth Show, The David Letterman Show, the Royal Variety Performance in Blackpool, Morecambe and Wise, The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson, and Hollywood Squares. He appears in the TV series, The Sweeney, as part of The Flying Column. He was the front man for the David Soul Orchestra, appearing in the US as part of the David Soul Christmas on Fox, appeared on the 1989 hit US album America by Roy Wood, and worked with the likes of Phil Collins, Kevin Kilbane and Michael Tighe on several occasions. He performed in Rock'n'Roll Dreams with Mr. Hinchcliffe (Adam Faith) and then toured Europe as a solo artist with Chardonnaywine. In 1991 Norris joined Riverdance, which was formed by Michael Flatley and David Hocking. One of his last musical roles was as Rory in the musical version of Roald Dahl
